Dear Sir/Madam

I am sending you my CV to express my interest in the recent job opening advertisement with the title "Junior Network Engineer" at FiveFold.

I am a B.Sc. graduate of Department of Informatics, Aristotle University of Thessaloniki, Greece with orientation on Networks & Telecommunications and have recently acquired my CCNA Routing & Switching certification (on December 2019). Getting CCNA, besides the technical knowledge it provided me, also involved independent personal study and research, analytical and critical thinking, as well as great time management and initiative, skills which I am sure I could also deploy and use on this specific position.

As relative experience with the position, I worked in the IT department of Municipality of Kozani, Greece, which helped me learn to effectively collaborate as a member of a team in which I was integrated almost instantly, but also to work independently and adapt immediately to the transition between the various roles and responsibilities of the position, while providing user technical support (which was one of the main tasks of the department) benefited greatly my communication and interpersonal skills and reinforced my problem solving skills. Furthermore, my interaction with service provider personnel responsible for the configuration and maintenance of both the LAN and WAN infrastructure of the organization, was crucial to help me determine the direction I wanted my career to have in the future.

The prospect of working at FiveFold will give me the chance to work alongside engineers and technicians with extensive experience, and given my desire to gain experience in the field and broaden my skills, I consider it to be a great opportunity. Additionally, the partnership of FiveFold with leading international vendors of products in IT infrastructure and Telecommunications will give me exposure to a wide range of networking solutions. Another great advantage, regarding my professional development, is the training opportunities provided by the company, while the job role possibly involving network, security and virtualization technologies, is exceptionally interesting.

I am confident my assets, certifications and area of expertise match your requirements and combined with my strong incentive to work in this field and gain technical specialization in a variety of technologies, make me a great candidate for this position. I would be grateful for the opportunity to showcase my abilities further at a personal interview and learn more about FiveFold.

Thank you in advance for your time and consideration and I'm looking forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,
Charalampos Karalis
